

Digi-Key Corporation and Alpha & Omega Semiconductor Sign Global Distribution Agreement

Thief River Falls, Minn. and Sunnyvale, Calif. – September 23, 2008 – Digi-Key Corporation and Alpha & Omega Semiconductor, Inc. (AOS) announced today that the companies have signed a global distribution agreement.

AOS is a leading developer of advanced semiconductor solutions. AOS products stocked by Digi-Key are featured in its print and online catalogs and are available for purchase directly from Digi-Key. This new distribution agreement will enable Digi-Key to fulfill both the design and production quantity needs of its very diverse customer base.

“We are very excited to expand our semiconductor portfolio with products from Alpha & Omega Semiconductor,” said Mark Larson, Digi-Key president and COO. “AOS’ commitment to excellence in design, manufacturing reliability, and responsiveness to its customers makes this company a good match for Digi-Key, and we are certain that AOS products will be of consequential interest and appeal to our customers.”

“AOS and Digi-Key complement each other in its business philosophy of bringing the best value to customers and best service in the industry. With Digi-Key’s global presence and top-rated online commerce, customers will be able to access AOS’ wide range of products in a more efficient manner,” said Jonus Chen, vice president of worldwide sales for AOS. “We look forward to a successful partnership with Digi-Key.”
